The Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) and the Tribal Law and Policy Institute (TLPI) invite you to participate in the 16th National Indian Nations Conference: Justice for Victims of Crime, which will be held December 5 - 7, 2018 on the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians Reservation in Coachella Valley, California. Plenary sessions and more than 60 conference workshop presentations will demonstrate methods and strategies for improving safety, as well as promoting justice and healing for crime victims, through cooperation and collaboration among Tribal, Federal, State and private agencies in American Indian and Alaska Native communities. This conference is being coordinated by TLPI under grant # 2017-VR-GX-K024 from the Office for Victims of Crime, Office of Justice Programs and U.S. Department of Justice.

Office for Victims of Crime (OVC)

(www.ojp.gov/ovc)

The U.S. Department of Justice’s Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) was established by the Victims of Crime Act of 1984 (VOCA) to serve as the federal government’s chief advocate for America’s crime victims.

Tribal Law and Policy Institute (TLPI)

(www.Home.TLPI.org)

The Tribal Law and Policy Institute is a Native non-profit corporation organized to design and deliver education, research, training and technical assistance programs that promote the improvement of justice in Indian country and the health, well-being and culture of Native peoples.

CONFERENCE GOALS

- Honoring & Listening to Victim/Survivor Voices: Creating victim-centered/sensitive responses; being inclusive of victim/survivors particularly those from underserved or underserved populations, including LGBTQ victims, disabled victims and youth victims; and promoting peer to peer learning opportunities.
- Promoting Safety, Justice and Healing: Justice for victims/justice for all; understanding jurisdictional issues; exercising tribal sovereignty to promote safety & justice; highlighting the resiliency of spirituality & healing in tribal communities.
- Honoring the Wisdom of the Past: Understanding historical trauma; enlisting tribal elders as keepers of our tribal histories; and embracing traditional teachings.
- Promoting Traditional Values: Promoting traditional values and incorporating traditional skills in crime victim services; upholding wellness, mentally, physically, spiritually and emotionally; and framing victim services around tribal traditions.
- Ensuring Safety, Justice & Healing for Seven Generations of Children: Addressing child sexual abuse & education on developing programs for victims; emphasis on victims within the juvenile justice system; support for keeping youth within the community.
- Working in Harmony: Building partnerships with federal and state agencies; supporting partnerships between tribes; education on the importance of networking and working together in collaboration to strengthen services; supporting multi-disciplinary teams; and networking with Native men to address domestic violence & sexual assault.
- Supporting and Educating Tribal Leaders: Educating and supporting efforts of tribal leaders to achieve accountability and responsibility to victims of crime.
- Sustaining our Legacy: Developing skills and incorporating cultural approaches to enhance sustainability and measurability; increasing the accuracy of victimization research; and developing capacity within victim services.
- Healing the Healers: Ensuring safety and support for service providers.

Scholarship Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Who Should Apply?

A limited number of scholarships are available to tribal representatives, service providers and victims of crime who require financial assistance. Priority will be given to the following work categories:

- Tribal Leader/Official
- Victims of Crime
- Victim Advocates
- Tribal Multi-Disciplinary Teams
- Service Providers
- Tribal Law Enforcement
- Tribal Court Personnel
- Tribal Youth
- Tribal Elders

What is the Criteria for receiving a scholarship?

A scholarship review committee will review and score your application based on the below criteria. Scholarships will be awarded to the top scoring applications. Incomplete applications may not be considered.

1. Scholarship application is completed with all required information.
2. Scholarship application was received by the deadline of September 7, 2018.
3. Statement of need is completed and addresses all of the required areas. Points will be deducted if there is no attached statement of need. Statement of Need should be at least 500 words (minimum) or one (1) sided, letter size page.
 - Why you need this scholarship
 - Your experience working with, or interest in working with victims of crime in Indian country.
 - How you will utilize the information from the conference in your own community and/or career.
 - Indicate what priority group you belong to.
 - Indicate if your Tribe is a current U.S. Department of Justice grantee and explain why your U.S. Department of Justice grant cannot fund your travel expenses.
4. Priority/Work Category is clearly communicated. Be sure to indicate if you are a tribal leader/official, victim of crime, victim advocate, tribal multi-disciplinary team member, service provider, tribal law enforcement, tribal court personnel, tribal youth and/or tribal elder.
5. Our overall goal is to bring as many deserving scholarship applicants to the conference within the available budget and budget restrictions. Please indicate if you are willing to car pool, share a room, only need a partial scholarship or are able to match funding (for example, perhaps your program is willing to pay directly for two participants so long as two additional team members can travel on scholarship).
6. Additional information will be given credit. We are seeking a diverse pool of qualified scholarship applicants. Consideration will be given to candidates working in underfunded tribal direct service programs.

7. We need a substantial number of volunteers to perform various volunteer tasks at the conference. Please indicate if you are interested in volunteering at the conference in some capacity.

When will I find out if I've been given a scholarship?

Recipients will be notified no later than October 15, 2018. You will receive an online scholarship acceptance email so please ensure your email is correct. You must reply by email to accept the terms and conditions of the scholarship.

What does the Scholarship cover?

Scholarships may include all or some of the following expenses (subject to change based on DOJ travel guidelines and conference approval).

Registration

A waiver of registration fee valued at $200 will be provided.

Airfare

Round trip airfare will be provided. We cannot reimburse you for baggage fees, in-flight meals/beverages/movies, or other airfare related expenses. Please note that your airline ticket will be non-transferable and non-refundable. Should you be unable to attend and have to cancel your ticket, you will be required to reimburse TLPI for the cost of your airline ticket. The airline credit will be issued in your name.

Mileage

If you are requesting mileage reimbursement, we will reimburse you at the current 2018 federal GSA rate of 0.545 cents per mile (not to exceed the cost of round trip airfare to and from your local airport to the conference hotel). A travel expense form must be completed to receive a reimbursement check. Checks can be picked up at the registration table.

Hotel

Lodging will be provided in the travel scholarship and will only cover the room costs and applicable tax. Your room reservations and arrangements will be completed by the TLPI staff.

 Scholarships do not include hotel incidentals, ground transportation, non-approved meals, per-diem, and personnel expenses. All expenses are subject to change and must be in accordance with current DOJ travel guidelines.*

Does the Scholarship cover CEU or CLE Credit?

No. Participants are responsible for the $25 fee.

Do I have to register for the conference if I receive a Scholarship?

Yes. The Scholarship Application is separate from the conference registration. You will receive a registration waiver code in your scholarship acceptance email. We encourage all participants to register online at www.OVCINC.org. If you are unable to complete an online registration, you can mail or fax a hard copy registration form to Tribal Law and Policy Institute.
